The Biggest Loser Kid Plan | The Dr. Oz Show

You see, we all have red light foods, yellow light foods, and green light foods. Red means stop. Red foods are a “no-go.” Either because they don’t help you achieve your goals, you have trouble eating them in reasonable amounts, or they plain old make you feel gross. Often, red light foods are processed foods like chips, candy, ice cream, and pastries. Red foods can also be foods that you’re allergic / intolerant to.
